New Study Aid from the Institutes Prepares Students for National Exam

MALVERN, Pa.— The American Institute for CPCU and Insurance Institute of America (the Institutes) released the ARe 144 Online Exam Review as a supplemental study aid for students preparing for the Reinsurance Principles and Practices (ARe 144) national examination. ARe 144 is a required course for the Associate in Reinsurance (ARe) designation.

The ARe 144 Online Exam Review consists of narrated PowerPoint presentations for each educational objective (describes what the student should be able to demonstrate upon the completion of the learning experience), flash cards for each assignment, and pre- and post-assessments for each assignment. It contains many of the same elements and educational benefits as the Institutes' traditional SMART Study Aids.

Students who have used these study aids found them beneficial. One student stated, "The practice exams were the most useful because they prepared me for the type of exam I would face. I also thought the flash cards and matching exercises were useful."

Brokers and Reinsurance Markets Association (BRMA) funded and assisted in the development of the ARe designation. BRMA partnered with the Institutes to create this online exam review for ARe 144 to help students master the course material. BRMA also funds two scholarships awarded to ARe graduates each year.

The ARe 144 Online Exam Review is priced at $50. Employees at BRMA member companies can purchase access for $32.

To order the ARe 144 Online Exam Review or for more information, contact Customer Service at (800) 644-2101 or e-mail customerservice@cpcuiia.org.

Note to Editors: The American Institute for CPCU and Insurance Institute of America are not-for-profit organizations offering knowledge solutions and professional development services to the risk management and property-casualty insurance community. The Institutes offer the CPCU designation program; associate designation programs in areas such as claims, risk management, underwriting, and reinsurance; introductory and foundation programs; and online courses, all of which help drive better decision making to propel business success.
